Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 30-38 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 30-31 and 33-38, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Velazquez et al. (US Pub. 2001/0003443).

Regarding to claim 30, Velazquez et al. disclose a method of communicating comprising the step of:

modifying at least one antenna's beam width based on received radio resource allocation instructions for signals to be transmitted and/or receive by the at least one antenna (see par.007-009, 040), the instructions including location information of a mobile in communication with the at least one antenna (see par.055).

Regarding claim 31, Velazquez et al. disclose receiving information related to at least one or any combination of the following:

Art Unit: 2618

a signals to noise ratio of signals conveyed between the at least one antenna and the mobile; or a data rate of signals conveyed between the at least one antenna and the mobile (see par.033); processing the received information to generate radio resource allocation instructions; and conveying the radio resource allocation instructions to a beamformer coupled to the at least one antenna.

Regarding claims 33, 35 and 37, Velazquez et al. disclose at least one antenna is part of a wireless communication system and the beam width of the at least one antenna of a forward link of the communication system is modified (see par.040).

Regarding claims 34, 36 and 38, Velazquez et al. disclose at least one antenna is part of a wireless communication system and the beam width of the at least one antenna of a reverse link of the communication system is modified (see par.076-077).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 32, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable Velazquez et al. in view of Thomas (US Patent 6,697,642).

Art Unit: 2618

Regarding dependent claim 32, Velazquez et al. disclose the radio resource allocation instructions comprises information related to data rate of the signals (see par.0033), SNR of the signals (see col.8 lines 7-8), power level of the signals (see par.034). However, Velazquez et al. fail to disclose a signal to noise ratio of the signals and quality of service needs of a user of the mobile.

Thomas discloses a signal to noise ratio of the signals (see col.16 lines 25-26) and quality of service needs of a user of the mobile (col.16 lines 20-21). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the system of Velazquez et al. with the above teaching of Thomas in order to provide other measurement method such as SNR and beamforming base on an optimum signal quality.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
